Website for Men's Shed is on line.

The Website for the Karrinyup Community Men's Shed is now on line at <http://karrinyup.menssheds.wa.org.au/>

This uses the domain name and hosting provided free of charge by Men's Sheds of WA as one of the benefits of the Karrinyup Shed being a member of Men's Sheds of WA.

The pages have been set up to display both portrait and landscape on mobile phones without pinching or expanding and without horizontal scrolling, except for the PDF files.

Google search knows about these pages. It may be some time before the pages are found by other search engines and displayed in search results on those.

For a while, people may prefer to go directly to the site using the link above. The link will be included in the footer in emails.

An Internal Search service is included, and can be used from the Search page, to find any words or phrases in any of the files on the site, including PDF files. That's an easy way to find something you think is on the site.

The content and layout of these pages will be updated as needed, so we are asking for any comments, suggestions, photos or articles to go in.

Please have a look at the site and send any comments to the Men's Shed email kcmensshed@iinet.net.au

Email address for Men's Shed.

Men's Sheds of WA also provided an free email address for the Karrinyup Shed.

That was used on Monday 8 October to send out an email to members, but many emails did not get delivered, or were delayed for days.

Lots of tests with the email provider showed that the cause may have been found and fixed.

However, we have decided to stay with this iiNet email address in future, the one used for this and previous emails.

Men's Sheds of WA October newsletter

The Men's Sheds of WA puts out a newsletter called "Warbler"

The October edition is a special edition covering the 2018 Gallagher Men's Sheds Conference to be held on 25 October.

This and earlier editions back to 2010 are available from <https://www.mensshedswa.org.au/category/newsletter/>
